What is OfficeWare's Meter eCommerce?
Meter Ecommerce is a way for our customers to receive their meter read requests via email.

How does OfficeWare's Meter eCommerce work?
Key operators supply OfficeWare with their email addresses. When a meter read is due, an email is sent from an OfficeWare, Inc. billing coordinator to the key operator with a subject line of "New Meter Read Needed." An internet link in our email will connect directly to a listing of the meter reads we are requesting. Just enter the meter read(s) in the appropriate box(es) and select submit. Internet access is required.

What are the benefits of using OfficeWare's Meter eCommerce?
The meter eCommerce allows our customers to enter their meter readings directly into our system at their convenience. This eliminates the manual meter entry after a read is faxed back, which insures greater invoicing accuracy. Customers can reply to the email and direct questions directly to a specific trained OfficeWare billing coordinator. Delivery and receipt issues of faxes no longer exist.
